We believe all students can achieve in an environment where they are challenged academically and behaviorally and expected to meet high standards. We recognize the diversity of students we serve and strive to create an atmosphere that addresses the individual needs and requirements of each student. We emphasize positive behaviors and recognize students for those positive behaviors. Our focus is on creating life-long learners who will acquire the necessary skills to be successful in their adult endeavors.

Special Programs and Opportunities:

In addition to excellent regular programs, Bell offers an accelerated program for students needing to be challenged. Each interdisciplinary team also has classes that are accelerated and enriched for the advanced learners. A selection process, similar to District CHPS, is used to identify students at the start of the year. A wide spectrum of services is also offered to students with special needs, including ADD, emotional disorders, learning disabilities, autism, and SLIC. In addition to the academic offerings, Bell offers many extra-curricular opportunities for interested students. Clubs, Student Leadership Class, yearbook, and intramurals are offered during the school day through our advisement period. Other extra-curricular opportunities include: Spelling Bee, Geo Bee, Destination Imagination, Reflections, field trips to Washington D.C., Sea Camp in San Diego, Florida, France and Mexico are offered in alternating years.

Additional school information:

Golden High School has approximately 1,350 students in four grades. In 1860, the first school in the city of Golden was established. By 1905, Golden High had grown and graduated 21 people that year. Nearly five decades later the current Golden High School building was constructed. In 1986 GHS had a much needed remodel, joining the five separate buildings into one, and the school has been mostly unchanged since. 1998 was a banner year for GHS, as we celebrated our 125th anniversary. Golden High School is currently the oldest school in the state of Colorado and is home to the mighty "Demons."

Colorado School Of Mines 1500 Illinois St., Golden, CO 80401

Colorado School of Mines is a public research university devoted to engineering and applied science. It has the highest admissions standards of any university in Colorado and among the highest of any public university in the U.S.

CSM has distinguished itself by developing a curriculum and research program that is geared towards responsible stewardship of the earth and its resources. In addition to strong education and research programs in traditional fields of science and engineering,

CSM is one of a very few institutions in the world having broad expertise in resource exploration, extraction, production and utilization. As such, CSM occupies a unique position among the world's institutions of higher education.

The school's role and mission has remained constant and is written in the Colorado statute as:

The Colorado School of Mines shall be a specialized baccalaureate and graduate research institution with high admission standards. The Colorado School of Mines shall have a unique mission in energy, mineral, and materials science and engineering and associated engineering and science fields. The school shall be the primary institution of higher education offering energy, mineral and materials science and mineral engineering degrees at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. (Colorado Revised Statutes, Section 23-41-105)
